

Milltown Martyrs

16 March, 1988

Volunteer Caoimhin MacBradaigh, Civilian John Murray, Civilian Thomas McErlan...

On 16 March, 1988, three men were gunned down by a loyalist shooter while attending the funeral of the Gibraltar Three. The loyalist also launched grenades at the mourners who were there to honour the dead so recently killed, while unarmed, by British soldiers. Of the three men killed at the funeral, only one was an IRA Volunteer. They are all remembered by the community however.
